Community Voices Support for Southwest Museum

Judy Call

The Autry Museum of Western Heritage and the Southwest Museum recently signed a Memorandum of Understanding to merge, forming the Autry National Center of the American West. The new Center would consist of three entities: the Autry Museum, the Southwest Museum, and the Institute for the Study of the American West. Local residents and community organizations have voiced concerns about what the merger would mean for the continuing use of Southwest Museum facilities in Mount Washington as a public destination and exhibition museum.

The Autry and Southwest Museums have undertaken a six-month planning process, including public input, to develop a long-term master plan integrating the functions of the merged institutions. The estimated cost to renovate the historic Southwest Museum, preserve its collections, redesign some Autry exhibition space, and create an endowment for the new Center is $100 million, which would need to be raised by the Center.

After a brief presentation and questions from members at the last MWA meeting, a public forum was held at the Southwest Museum on February 10th. The spirited and sometimes heated questions and comments from the overflow crowd reflected overwhelming community and elected official support for preservation and continued use of the Southwest Museum, including the Casa de Adobe. On February 14th, the City Council unanimously adopted a resolution in support of the community's position. The Autry Museum subsequently delayed a planned joint Board meeting, as well as a planning study that is essential to provide necessary information regarding preservation and rehabilitation of the Southwest Museum and Casa de Adobe.

A community group, Friends of the Southwest Museum Coalition, which includes many members of the MWA, has communicated to both museums the community's support for the merger while requesting consideration of the community's concerns within the merger agreement. Those concerns include:

- Affirmation that the Southwest Museum buildings and gardens are artifacts of the collection, and will continue to be preserved and used as a public destination.
- Preservation and conservation of the entire Southwest Museum collection, including the facilities on Mount Washington.

- Focusing the historic preservation study on providing information necessary to rehabilitate the Southwest Museum and the Casa de Adobe as public destination museums.
- Consent to listing the Southwest Museum on the National Register of Historic Places, to give it the ability to access preservation funding sources.
- Inclusion of Native Americans from the Northeast Los Angeles/Arroyo Seco region on a Native American Advisory Board being established for the new Center.
- Provision of ongoing local input for the Mount Washington facilities via representation on the new board of directors for the Center and/or establishment of a community advisory board.

As this newsletter went to press, meetings with officials of both museums were continuing. Nicole Possert, Chair of the Friends of the Southwest Museum Coalition, will report on progress at the next MWA General Membership meeting.

President's Message

Carol Jacques

During the past few weeks, the future of the Southwest Museum has once again become a major issue for residents of Mount Washington. Long-time residents will recall that, about fifteen years ago, local residents had to organize the Save Our Southwest Museum group to fight plans of the museum's Board of Trustees to close the facility. Recently, the boards of trustees of the Southwest Museum and the Autry Museum announced that they had signed a preliminary agreement to merge the two institutions. They presented a general outline of the merger plan at several community meetings held earlier this month. At the February 10th meeting, held at the Southwest, Autry Board Chairman John Gray announced that the final memorandum of understanding would be signed at a joint meeting of the two boards on February 20th. A large number of speakers, including American Indian activists, neighbors, and museum backers, made the point that the merger process seemed rushed and not open enough to public scrutiny.

Our former neighbor and City Council candidate Antonio Villaraigosa called on the two boards to delay finalizing the merger pending greater public input into the process. Within a few days after the meeting at the Southwest, the Friends of the Southwest Museum Coalition was born; the Friends mailed a letter to the Southwest and the Autry supporting the merger in general, but calling for consultation with community groups and a delay in finalizing the merger. The two boards then voted to delay the merger. Leaders of the two museums and the Coalition are now discussing the future of the Southwest Museum.

I have appointed Judy Call as the MWA's liaison to the Southwest Museum. The Southwest is the crown jewel of Mount Washington and the Arroyo Seco, and we must be ever-vigilant regarding its future. Don't miss the March 17 MWA meeting at which we will discuss the current status of the merger.

Membership Report

Ed Raspa

As the new chair of the Membership Committee, I want to pay special tribute to my predecessor Aurora Nordhausen. Aurora made a number of contributions to the MWA as chair of the Membership Committee: she produced the MWA note card project, organized membership drives in Nob Hill and Mount Washington West, and planned a welcome party for new residents. In addition, she helped to oversee the expanded number of ads in the newsletter and assisted our advertisers with the design of their ads. She's a tough act to follow!

Membership dues for 2003 were payable on January 1st; in order to maintain your membership in good standing, you must pay the annual dues by April 1st. Failure to pay the annual dues will result in the loss of membership rights, including the right to vote and hold office. If you haven't paid the dues already, please take a moment to fill in the enclosed membership application and drop it in the mail together with your check.

As of February 23rd we have a total of 436 memberships (representing approximately 650 members); 238 of these memberships are paid for the year 2003. Approximately fifty-five of these paid memberships are at the supporting level and above; the Board offers a special thanks to those members who have given extra financial support to the Association. With respect to new members, we added approximately twenty-nine new memberships (nearly fifty members) to the membership roll since November 1st. Don't forget to tell your new neighbors about the Association!

The membership committee needs volunteers for its various activities. If you're interested in stuffing newsletters, contacting current and/or potential members, or working on other outreach activities, please contact me. I hope to hear from you soon.

Beautification Report

Jerry Schneider

Hello again. I've volunteered to chair the Association's Beautification Committee for this year. It's been two years since I last held this post, and I believe I can still contribute to our community by facilitating projects that contribute to our unique quality of life here in Mount Washington. I am asking anyone who has an idea and/or would like to assist in a project to please let me know.

As I walk and drive many of our streets, I see many opportunities where just a little extra effort would do much to beautify our environment. Here are a few of my ideas.

As good neighbors, we need to maintain our front and rear yards, keeping them free of trash, weeds, and other unsightly items. This effort should extend to adjacent public areas. We have many good neighbors who on their daily walks carry a small plastic bag to pick up litter they happen to spot along the way.

We also have many conscientious dog owners who are responsible and pick up after their pets; they, too, carry a small plastic bag or two. And yet we have a good many who have yet to learn to be responsible pet owners. As part of the education effort, and to facilitate the abatement of pet fecal matter on our public streets, sidewalks, and paths, I would like to propose a project to place dispensing stations for plastic disposable pet clean-up bags at a few key locations. There are commercially available dispensing stations with appropriately designed plastic bags, such as the Mutt Mitt. These post-mounted stations can be placarded with appropriate wording on applicable municipal codes and the need to protect our health and environment. The locations that might qualify for the first test installations could include the entrances to Elyria Canyon Park and the areas near the Mount Washington School and along the unpaved trail extending from Sea View Avenue. Unlike an earlier proposal along these lines, there would be no designated trash containers to maintain and pet owners would be responsible for disposal of their own filled bags.

Another, perhaps less ambitious, project would be a wildflower seed sale and sowing. This could become an annual tradition: wildflower seeds sown in the winter would become a colorful carpet of spring flowers along our walking paths. There are many candidate spaces that come to mind. I would like to start with the most visible, such as in front of the school, along the edge of the new sidewalk on San Rafael Ave, or along the unpaved trail along the new Bob Scholfield Park. Funding and timing of the seeding, some hand weeding, and the cooperation of natural rainfall would all be necessary elements for this project.

I would also like to continue the native plant sales started by our past beautification chair, Lynette Kampe, and the natural landscape restoration projects in Rainbow and Elyria Canyon.

Again, please call me with your ideas and offers to assist on this committee.

March General Membership Meeting

Natalie Seaman

Our next general membership meeting will be held at 7:30 PM on March 17, at the Carlin G. Smith Recreation Center. Join us and learn more about the fabulous Arroyo Seco! The meeting will prepare us all to understand the vision of Charles Lummis and the Arts and Crafts Movement throughout the Northeast section of Los Angeles. Nicole Possert, past president of the Highland Park Heritage Trust and chairperson of the Friends of the Southwest Museum Coalition, will share with us. Also on hand will be Johnny Sims, the new Ranger for Elyria Canyon Park. Come and get the updates on all the happenings on your community.

Draft Minutes of the January General Membership Meeting

David Brunk

President Carol Jacques opened the meeting with approval of the minutes from the previous meeting, which were published in the January newsletter.

Supervisor Gloria Molina was honored for securing the MTA Board's decision to support our request for a "quiet zone" at the Avenue 45 and Avenue 50 crossings of the Gold Line.

Honored for their perseverance in efforts to make the Gold Line quiet and safe in our neighborhood were Paul Ahrens, Susan Baldwin, and Jim and Marie Leong.

Supervisor Molina presented certificates of recognition to retiring MWA directors Aurora Nordhausen, Cheri Uno, and Ann Walnum, and new directors Nancy Lilly and Susan Baldwin were introduced. Supervisor Molina then gave the oath of office to the MWA officers for 2003: Carol Jacques as President, Pat Griffith as 1st VP (Action), Natalie Seaman as 2nd VP (Programs), Ed

Raspa as 3rd VP (Membership), Ron Johnson as Treasurer, and David Brunk as Secretary.

Denise Smith, Bill Rumble, and Grayson Cook read selections of the justly famous Jack Smith's published works.

The proposed merger of the Autry Museum with our local Southwest Museum was discussed by Duane King, Executive Director of the Southwest Museum, and John L. Gray, Executive Director of the Autry Museum. Several questions from the audience concerned rumors regarding the future of the Southwest Museum. Mr. Gray invited all to attend the meeting on February 10 at which these issues were to be addressed. He made it clear that neighborhood support was necessary for the successful completion of the merger and a successful enhancement of the Museum.

Gold Line Report

Paul Ahrens

The MTA Board of Directors voted on January 23, 2003, to adopt a motion by Gloria Molina, MTA Board of Directors member and Los Angeles County Supervisor, which calls upon the MTA to "establish a Gold Line operating procedure which designates the crossings at Avenues 45 and 50 as quiet zones". The Board approved the motion unanimously.

However, as the MTA begins testing in preparation for the expected July 2003 opening of the Gold Line, we as a community have received very little notification as to what we should expect. We must insist on immediate and substantive communication between MTA and the community on audible warning device testing and other operational issues. We continue to urge MTA to establish a Community Advisory Council, representing residents and riders, to oversee Gold Line operations.

One individual reported with alarm the aftermath of what appeared to be a collision between a train and a car in Pasadena. We have been told this was a simulation and that further accident simulations will be conducted. Had the public been warned, such a misunderstanding might have been avoided.

The South Pasadena station (at Mission) was dedicated a few weeks ago. The dedication of the Southwest Museum station may be as soon as April. Check the Mount Washington Association's website for updates.

Elyria Canyon Park – New Ranger

Deputy Chief Ranger Johnny Sims and his wife, Veronica Viljoen-Sims, moved into Elyria Canyon Park just before the New Year. Ranger Sims is very interested in renewing community involvement in the park. He retired from the National Park Service after 25 years of service and joined the Mountains Recreation and Conservation Authority last October.

He is interested in establishing partnerships with community organizations and individuals who share his interest in youth education and mentoring programs. One proposal under consideration is a vibrant Earth Day program in the park. He is very open to all your ideas and can be contacted during the day at his Franklin Canyon office at (310) 858-7272 ext. 105 or via email at Sims@smmc.ca.gov.

Los Angeles River

The City has woken up to the fact that the LA River is an asset that should be treasured. After substantial work by many organizations, such as Friends of LA River (FoLAR), Occidental College's Urban and Environmental Policy Institute, and many others, the City has established an Ad Hoc Committee chaired by Councilman Reyes. The committee's goal is to develop a framework for a renewed LA River within the City of Los Angeles. This vision is to revitalize our neighborhoods, to invest in our communities, to bring nature to people, and to enhance our quality of life.

In order to meet its December 2003 deadline, the Ad Hoc Committee on the LA River has offered the following categories or strategic areas to facilitate discussion, public comments, and presentations. Building on the public's input, community group participation, agency or department reports, and successful strategies from other cities, the Committee will present specific recommendations within each category for future decision-making on LA River revitalization. These recommendations will shape the framework of the Committee's report to the Council.

Strategic Areas/Categories:

- Management Structure. A management structure appears to play a key role in every city's river revitalization.
- Revitalization Plan. A revitalization plan provides a long-term blueprint for sensitive river redevelopment.
- A Resource and Funding Strategy. An integration of partnerships and funding opportunities will offer greater leverage in developing demonstration projects, gathering funding, and ensuring a collaborative process.
- A Public Outreach and Education Program. Re-introducing the river to our city will help in its revitalization.
- Demonstration projects. Carefully chosen projects based on our guiding principles can become the "tipping force" for river revitalization.

A series of presentations on ideas are ongoing. You can obtain more information from Councilman Reyes' office at (213) 485-3451 or online at:

<http://www.lacity.org/councilcmte/lariver/index.htm>.

Arroyo Seco Neighborhood Council

On Wednesday, February 12, the L.A. City Council unanimously passed the Community Impact Statement motion, which provides a mechanism for Neighborhood Councils (NCs) to take positions on City Council Agenda Items.

A computer-transmitted position of up to 100 words sent by designated NC representatives will be written into the agenda item to be considered. Where more than one NC takes a position (i.e., on regional or citywide items), the computer-transmitted position limit may be reduced, but an unlimited-length position can always be filed in writing or by fax. A formal method of notifying NCs of potentially relevant agenda items is being developed.

Neighborhood Council Community Impact statements on agenda items must be considered by the City Council, helping to implement the NCs' Charter-mandated advisory role. Community Impact statements will be both a voice for the Community's NCs and a viable way for the City Council to help assess the will of our communities.

Our own Arroyo Seco neighborhood council, which was certified on Oct. 2 and now includes Mt. Washington, Sycamore Grove (the Figueroa corridor), Montecito Heights, Monterey Hills, and Hermon, is working toward its first elections. There are numerous tasks that must be completed, such as establishing 'approved' election procedures, modifying the Bylaws per the BONC mandated changes, and registering stakeholders (us). We are all encouraged to participate in this process; the dates, times and locations of the subcommittee meetings can be viewed on the ASNC website's calendar. Minutes of past meetings and agendas are also available.

The next meetings of the Transition Committee will be on March 11 at the Coptic Church on Cleland, then on March 27 at the Hermon church on Monterey Road. All Stakeholders will meet once more to approve our Bylaws changes and election procedures. Once the neighborhood council has elected a Board and that Board has approved a budget, this organization will receive substantial funding from the City, allowing significant outreach and neighborhood projects.

Full information about the ASNC can be found on the website (<http://asnc.us>) or from Transition Committee chair, Bill Murray at (323) 225-6393 or Interim chair, Jim Thompson at (323) 256-3625.

Cypress Park Library

Completed at a cost of more than $4 million, the new state-of-the-art Cypress Park library includes multiple computer workstations, special areas for children, teens and adults, a multipurpose meeting room, and an outdoor courtyard. At 10,750 square feet, the new library is triple the size of the former library, which was constructed in 1926 and opened in 1927. The new library is at 1150 Cypress Ave. at the corner of Cypress Avenue and Alice.

City Council Public Safety Committee

A Burglar Alarm Task Force has been organized to address issues related to the policy adopted by the Board of Police Commissioners (Council File 03-0028) calling for LAPD response to home or commercial burglar alarms only when they have been verified. The goal of the Task Force is to conduct a thorough inquiry into the critical issue of the effective and efficient deployment of our LAPD resources and to present its findings and recommendations to the Public Safety and Education and Neighborhoods Committees within sixty days.

The Public Safety Committee of the Los Angeles City Council is responsible for making policy decisions regarding the Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD), the Los Angeles Fire Department (LAFD), the Department of Animal Regulation, and the Department of Building and Safety.

PUBLIC SAFETY COMMITTEE

Meetings: usually 10:00 am Mondays

ROOM 1010, CITY HALL

200 N. SPRING ST. LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

Chairperson is Councilmember Miscikowski

River Project

Melanie Winter of the River Project has been selected as one of Sunset magazine's eight Champions of the West receiving the 2003 Environmental Award for her work on the River Project.

Sunset says:

"Melanie Winter stands above the Los Angeles River, looking down at the property known as Taylor Yard. From here, it looks like industrial hardscape. But Taylor Yard is a major victory in the fight to restore this neglected river - a fight that Winter helps lead as the director of the nonprofit River Project....The 3-mile Taylor Yard riverbank is the project's most high-profile success. Winter forged a coalition of local groups to get $45 million in state funds to establish the LA River's largest park - an oasis that one day may resemble the lush stream praised by Crespi."

For more on the River Project, call (818) 980-9660 or visit <http://www.therriverproject.org>.

Congratulations, Melanie!

Public Safety Report

Cheri Uno

There will be a Community Clean Up for Highland Park and vicinity on March 29, 2003, 8 AM to 11 AM, followed by a fair from 11 AM to 3 PM. Also, oil recycling will be available on Figueroa Street between Avenue 56 and Avenue 57. Clean-up supplies will be available at Monte Vista Elementary and Arroyo Seco Magnet School. For more information, call (213) 485-0763.

Certified Emergency Response Training (CERT) classes will be offered by the LA Fire Department - free! Classes start March 14 at 7 PM, at the Women's Building on Colorado Boulevard; there are seven classes, each lasting from two to two and a half hours. If you have not had these classes, let me assure you they are great fun. You really learn about what to do in an emergency situation - fire, earthquake, terrorist attack, flood, or any disaster. 25 people need to be registered to start the classes. Call Marlene Schmidt at (323) 257-3333 if you are interested.

Officer Cooper reported at the C-PAB meeting that purse thieves are out and about in Highland Park. Be careful when carrying a purse: keep it close to your body or under clothing, and make sure you don't leave it on the seat next to you at an eating place or in a store.

Chief of Police Bratton will be inspecting our Northeast Police Station on March 19, 2003, at 8AM. If you are interested in attending to see what a station inspection is like - and to get a look at the brass - contact me at (323) 222-0410.

The Ones Who Came Before Us

Susan Baldwin

During the February 15 anti-war demonstration, a sea of faces a mile long marched purposefully down Hollywood Boulevard past Le Sex Shoppe, the tattoo parlors, the liquor stores and the Scientology building in a massive rainbow coalition of peaceniks sporting Bush masks, one with an eerie likeness to a dopily grinning Alfred E. Newman captioned "Empty Warhead". The front page of the LA Weekly showed one demonstrator wearing a sheep's head mask, carrying a poster that said "Don't Be a Nation of Sheep." It was an unprecedented display of solidarity against war in Iraq. Thanks to the Internet and to growing passion against this surreal and dangerous war, the largest peace rally across the globe had converged in over 600 cities around the world. The numbers were staggering: 750,000 in London, half a million in New York and Berlin. In Hollywood, estimates ranged from 100,000 by the organizer's count to 30,000 according to police. Either way, the turnout was not too shabby considering this event didn't revolve around sports or entertainment.

Despite the excitement and the numbers, I was not convinced that this demonstration would be totally worthwhile, not in the sense that I would matter to the Bush administration. James Cromwell, one of the leaders of the rally, had said, "We actually can stop the war this way. It affected Nixon, and it will affect this man." I don't know. I am not as idealistic as Mr. Cromwell. I think George Bush and his military advisors are so bent on this war that they are forgetting the devastating consequences military action could reap.

But if the thousands of people marching last Saturday couldn't convince me that, with patience and perseverance, demonstrations can and do make a difference, one veteran protestor would change my mind by the end of the day. He would make a believer of me again, as he told me his own story on the drive back home.

Lou is 79 years old with over fifty years of civil rights and anti-war marches behind him. When I picked him up for the march, I noticed immediately the telltale signs of a veteran demonstrator: backpack, protest signs, good walking shoes. I learned quite a bit about Lou on the drive to the march and back. He is soft-spoken and matter-of-fact, a former Navy boxer, a Unitarian, and a long-time activist. He had spent a little time protesting in D.C. and had later moved to Pittsburgh. He was excited about this march but I knew it was going to be slow going for him – the man is 79! I thought, when I'm 79, please just let me be sitting near water on my well-cushioned rump, with sand in my toes, the sun at my back, and something good to eat; certainly not marching for miles in a throng of complete strangers. But Lou is quite unusual and quite special.

I asked Lou about the first time he demonstrated. It was in 1948, when he was 24; segregation was still woven into the tapestry of American life, and Jim Crow laws were active. Many of us take for granted the end of segregation, but it didn't just happen. Lou was one of the ones who came before us, the people ready to put everything on the line for what they believed. Lou and seven of his friends, four women and three men, both black and white, protested segregation at a swimming pool in Pittsburgh. Just eight people on their own, not 100,000 marchers. During the protest, four white kids tried to drown Lou; the cops stood by and watched. Lou's boxing skills probably saved his life. He escaped. The next week, the pool was integrated.

I must admit, I was humbled by Lou's story and his incredible bravery. Maybe one day of protesting won't head off the war, but we have to keep trying. That's what Lou says and he should know. George Bush has to listen to somebody like Lou...doesn't he?

The Sunday after Easter is the traditional timing for our annual Jack Smith Walk, so mark your calendars now for Sunday, April 27. The walk, a pleasant four-mile loop, begins at the Tunnel Entrance to the Southwest Museum on Museum Drive. Tour leaders and limited supply of maps will be available for walking groups who come to this location between 9:00 and 9:30 AM. The walk is leisurely (two to two and a half hours for the four miles), tour leaders will offer some interpretive information, there are many wonderful views, and there will be refreshments – usually lemonade, water, and cookies – at about the midpoint of the loop, in front of the school.

This event is a Mount Washington tradition and a good time to meet your neighbors, their friends, relatives, dogs, etc. Please plan to attend, invite others, and enjoy the views and tradition.

If you would like to assist in any of the logistics for this event please call me. I also ask all residents of homes along the trail to make a special effort to tidy or spruce up. It's another reason to do Spring clean up. Any special plantings and clean up will be enjoyed by your neighbors, the walkers, many guests, and of course yourself. Thank you for your help.

Then and Now

Pat Samson

This time there's only room for a few more items from the early 1980s:

The Self Realization Fellowship hosted its Annual Halloween Program on October 31, 1982.

The man who put Mount Washington on the map, Jack Smith, returned to the November 1982 Association meeting to discuss his 31 years on the hill and his latest book, How To Win A Pullet Surprise.

The Highland Park Heritage 10K Run, sponsored by the Northeast Los Angeles Jaycees in cooperation with Group W (Adelphia) Cable, was held on Sunday, November 14, 1982.

Mount Washington residents began circulating petitions in early 1983 to change the name of the section of West Avenue 43 between street numbers 491 (at Mount Washington Drive) and 340 (at Glenmuir Avenue). That street is now Canyon Vista Drive.

On March 24, 1983 a train en route from Kansas City to Los Angeles derailed a few feet south of Figueroa Street near Pasadena Avenue and Marmion Way. A broken brace on a switch engine coupling device was the cause of the accident. Twenty-three cars and four engines of the sixty-car train derailed.

Then on August 14, 1983, the last 10 cars of a Santa Fe Railroad freight train derailed on a curve near the intersection of North Marmion Way and Avenue 43, toppling containers of clothing and appliances from flatcars and knocking over power poles as the cars careened alongside the tracks. No one was injured.
